Welcome to Tyler Endodontics

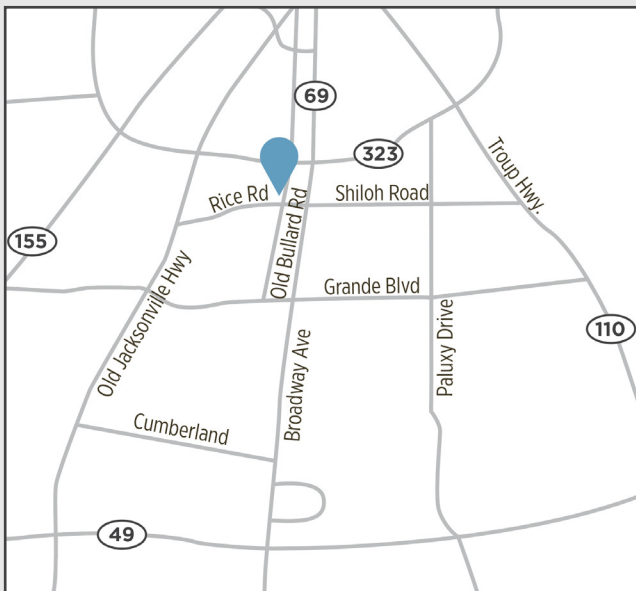

Our mission at Tyler Endodontics is a simple one...to work with you and your general dentist to achieve a healthy, functional, attractive dentition. Our promise to you is simple as well...that you will feel cared for from the time you pick up the phone to make an appointment until your problem is resolved. Whether you have been referred to us by your general dentist or you have sought us out on your own, we thank you for choosing Tyler Endodontics.

Root Canal Therapy - Tyler, TX

Bacteria associated with decay, deep restorations, fractures, trauma or periodontal disease may irreversibly damage the pulp. In order to preserve a tooth, in which this has occurred, it is necessary to remove the injured, infected tissue. This procedure is known as root canal therapy.

Do Root Canals Hurt?

In spite of what you may have heard, modern root canal treatment is similar to having a filling and can usually be completed in one appointment. Following treatment, you'll feel some tenderness in the tooth or in your jaw. Over-the-counter pain medication will often resolve these temporary symptoms. You can expect a comfortable experience during your appointment.

Meet Dr. David Bright

Dr. Bright entered the University of Texas Dental Branch in Houston in 1969 after his junior year at the University of Texas in Austin, receiving his DDS degree in 1973. His first three years after dental school were spent serving in the US Air Force dental corp, followed by establishing a general dental practice in Rockwall, Texas. In 1979 he entered the Endodontic graduate program at the Baylor College of Dentistry, receiving his certificate in the specialty in 1981. In 1987 Dr Bright established an Endodontic practice in Tyler that has grown into the current Tyler Endodontics. Dr. Bright has been recognized by Texas Monthly magazine as a Texas "Super Dentist" for the past 20 years. He is married to Shauna and has four children and three grandchildren. An avid golfer, he also enjoys tennis, fitness activities and "lake time" with his family.

Meet Dr. Caleb Rossall

After completing his undergraduate degrees at New Mexico State University, Dr. Caleb Rossall attended the University of California, San Francisco, for dental school. Dr. Rossall also completed a fellowship at the National Institute of Health in Washington D.C. He continued his post-doctoral training at Harvard University, where he received his Certificate in Endodontics and a Masters in Medical Sciences. Dr. Rossall also traveled to Austria for a fellowship and surgical training.

Since then, Dr. Rossall has completed approximately 20,000 thousand root canal procedures and has become an active member of both the local and state dental community, serving as President of East Texas Dental Society and a representative to the Texas Dental Association for his district. Dr. Rossall also promotes excellence in patient care and education by actively lecturing and writing articles, to further these goals.

Dr. Rossall moved to Tyler in 2006 with his wife, Carrie, so that their four children could be close to family. In his free time, he enjoys watching his kids participate in a variety of sports and spending time out on the lake.
